Tragedy.

CRIST READ OF THE DEED

First News Husband Had of Affairs
Was This Morning in the Chicago Papers.

It is almost superfluous to say that the sole topic of conversation and discussion in Rushville since yesterday morning is the sad tragedy that occurred at the Riley home where a mother suicided after shooting her fourteen-year-old son. As is usually the case—and it is to be deplored—stories and conflicting stories, rumors and gossip fills the air. Everyone has some new idea of the affair, or something to supplement to the already grievious tale.

The only new feature of the tragedy today is the fact that the husband of the woman, Edward Crist, has notified the Riley family that he will arrive here this evening and on that account the funeral planned for this afternoon has been postponed until tomorrow afternoon. It will be conducted by Dr. V. W. Tevis and will be private. Burial will occur at East Hill cemetery.

Crist could not be located yesterday by either the relatives of the woman or the newspapers of Chicago but this morning he read of the terrible fate of his wife and her son in the Chicago newspapers and immediately wired that he would arrive on the C. H. & D. at six o'clock this evening. In the telegram today he stated that he was shocked when he read the report of his wife's death. Crist is said to be quite wealthy and with the victim, has lived a life of luxurious ease since their marriage several years ago. Last year they spent the summer at Atlantic City and other eastern watering places.

Seldom does one plan a deed as carefully as Mrs. Crist did. Nothing was left undone or said that her plans would not materialize, even to the minutest detail. In one of the letters she left to the Riley family she said she intended to fire the shots as the late train passed the house, that none would be awakened in the household. In Mr. Riley's envelope she left the checks for her trunks, five in number, which were not brought to the house until after the tragedy. All of her costly clothes and jewels she left to her cousin Ruby Riley. When she placed $275 in money in the bank in Miss Riley's name she told the bankers she owed some bills around Rushville and she would have her cousin check out the money and pay them. To Miss Riley she told that the money was put in the bank and asked her to buy a monument and have it erected for her brother, whose body was never recovered from San Francisco bay where he was drowned, and have the wording on the stone read as if the body was interred below. This money she intended to be used for her funeral expenses.

Mrs. Crist told Mrs. Riley that she had a fine hair matress in storage in Chicago and wanted her to send for it. She had in mind then that she might spoil the matress in the room where the shooting occurred.

Members of the Riley family now recall many strange things that Mrs. Crist said since she arrived Tuesday evening for a visit. They recall that she said things that had much meaning in them, and were forewords of the terrible tragedy that was to follow. She told them she would not be there Thursday morning and asked them to do certain things for her. Wednesday night she spent with the family and seemed to be all absorbed in her son whom she played marbles with on the floor, as one child would play with another. Several times during the evening she was nearly overcome with emotion and borders on a breakdown. She would take her hands and say: "To me honey you are the sweetest thing in the world." It was her great love for her boy and the fear that he might not find life worth while, and also that he might be spared the pangs of deep sorrow that probably prompted the mother to decide on taking him with her when she went into eternity.

Mrs. Crist prepared herself, as far as was possible for burial. Before leaving Chicago she purchased clothing for that end for both herself and the boy. Before retiring she manicured her nails and her son's nails and both were groomed as if for an elaborate social event.

One sad feature about the boy's death was his plans for yesterday that were never realized. The day before he asked John Winship, a relative, if he might drive his horse the following day, for he said he never drove a horse in his life. Mr. Winship assured him that he might never drive the horse all day and drive to his heart's content.

Word has been sent broadcast in search of Frank Crane, the first husband of the deceased, and the father of the unfortunate boy, but so far they have been unable to locate him. He is thought to be in the lumber business in Tennessee.

The deepest sympathy and words of condolence is expressed on all sides for the Riley family.

Miss Mary E. Logan Will Deliver
Address on Mission Work.

Miss Mary E. Logan, who recently returned from India, where she was employed as a missionary, will give an address on mission work in India at the United Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, March 17th, at 7:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society of that church. Miss Logan will show interesting curios and customs of India. All are cordially invited to attend.

TERRIBLE RECORD MADE THIS MONTH

March is Month of Murders—Numerous Bloody Tragedies Have Been Enacted.

GREATER NUMBER THAN USUAL

The Connersville News says: "March, 1909, may go down in history as the month of murders. While Connersville people have been absorbed in ferriting out the perpetrator of a dastardly murder here, a woman was cruelly and mysteriously murdered at Indianapolis. Then came the case at Muncie where a man shoots and kills the husband of the woman with whom he has become infatuated, and today Rushville comes forward with a mysterious double tragedy in which the mother deliberately slays her own son and then takes her own life. Verily March is making a record for murders, especially in Eastern Indiana."

Financial Committee of Local Option League Makes Report Showing Balance on Hand.

MOST SPENT FOR ADVERTISING

One Hundred and Fifty Dollars Subscribed by Churches is Given Back.

The treasurer of the Local Option Committee makes a report that shows a neat balance of $45.12 upon the right side of the sheet. The financial end of the committee is to be commended for the business like manner with which they conducted the campaign. Out of the total sum of $530 that was subscribed, only $333 was used for actual running expenses so that the committee was enabled to return $150 subscribed by the four churches of the city. The largest amount used was that paid out for newspaper advertising and printing. The other expenses were incidental and only small amounts.

NICK TOMPKINS SIGNS WITH TEAM

Will Alternate in Pitcher's Box and on First Base With Cambridge City Club.

PEA WILL PLAY ON SAME TEAM

Nick Tompkins has signed with the Cambridge City base ball team and will alternate in the pitchers box and on first base. Tompkins is a first class ball player with a reputation and will strengthen the team. Omer Pea will play short stop on the same team.

Rushville will also be represented on the Connersville team as Ed Carter and Windy Morgan will probably play in that city. If all the local ball players could all be persuaded to stay home, no doubt a first class team could be organized here.

YOUNG LAD BACK FROM LONG TRIP

Everett Pickard is Home After Circling the Globe With United States Navy.

WAS AT THE MESSINNA QUAKE

With The First American Boat to Arrive There—Had Many, Many Interesting Experiences.

After a trip around the world on a United States boat, in one of the greatest feats of a naval cruise, Everett Pickard, the twenty-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Pickard, of North Benjamin street, arrived home last night. He left Rushville seventeen months ago, a crude, typical Hoosier stripling of a boy and returned with the hearty appearance of a tar, twenty pounds of flesh added to his frame and the jargon of a cosmopolitan. Aside from being one of the lucky seamen aboard a ship that made an enviable record, young Pickard's boat, the Yankton, also figured in many incidents that attracted world-wide attention.

It was the first American boat that arrived at Messina after the great quake there and rendered invaluable assistance to the survivors; it was the boat that was lost in a storm for three days and for which much anxiety was felt; it was also the boat commissioned to go in search of the man marooned on the Galapagos islands, in the Pacific ocean, off the coast of South America, when the world sat on the anxious seat for over a week to hear if the search had proven successful.

Pickard was seen by a Daily Republican representative shortly after his arrival here last night, and while he talked until the midnight hour, it was only possible to touch the high places of his many experiences, and no doubt the young fellow could recount interesting events for days and days. A peculiar fact, in this connection, is that Pickard was in so many places, saw and heard so many things, that his fund of information was virtually a Babel to him, and he could not tell of a dozen ports that they touched without being coached a bit. His seventeen-year-old brother stood by with the fire of admiration, pride and brother-worship in his eye, and so close did he follow the fleet's cruise in the newspaper reports here, that he actually knew more about where the sailor had been than he himself knew.

The Yankton, on which Pickard was employed as an ordinary seaman, was the fastest boat in the fleet. It was formerly a yacht, owned by the Penelopes, and given to the United States government. It was used throughout the cruise as a tender ship to the flagship Connecticut, which Admiral "Fighting Bob" Evans commanded. The Yankton was a sort of "office boy," and would carry the admirals from the various ships to port and discharge similar affaires for the "big guns." The Yankton was capable of doing from ten to fourteen knots an hour.

Pickard left Hampton Roads in November, where President Roosevelt reviewed the fleet from the Mayflower. They went around the horn, across the Pacific, and through the Suez canal, back to Hampton Roads, making an entire circle of the globe. It was a glorious tour and a trip, that not one of the men aboard will never forget.

At the Galapagos islands, off the east coast of South America, where a man named Jeff (Pickard could not remember his entire name) was marooned on an island and left alone to his fate. He was shipwrecked there with three other fellows. The three decided to build a raft and take their chances on the waters, which they did, but Jeff elected to stay behind and take his chances there of sighting a ship. The three men on a raft were picked up by a ship and word was sent broadcast for other ships in those waters to try and rescue the modern Robinson Crusoe. It remained for the Yankton to perform that duty and they left the remainder of the fleet off the coast of Chile.

Arriving at the island designated they found the rifle, razor and some old clothes belonging to the marooned man, but could not find him. The sailors found where he had built a fire and had eaten some turtles. The Yankton fired several shots, kept a searchlight on the island all night and fired sky rockets every half hour, but no signs of life were found. They gave it up as a hopeless task and concluded that Jeff had proved a victim to the many man eating sharks that literally filled the waters there. On the island and in the water adjacent, the largest species of turtles in the world are to be found. They weigh over seven hundred pounds and are as large as a boarding house bed.

At Sanoa Pickard was treated to the rare sight of seeing man eating cannibals in all their glory. Most of them carried war clubs (the same as Noah's children used) and their abbreviated costume of a frown, a dimple, some tan bark and a ring in their nose, would make the Gold Dust twins look like heavily attired Laplanders. The cannibals came out to the big boats hewed out of logs.

When the news of the earthquake in Sicily reached the Yankton by wireless, they immediately put out for Messina. Arriving there a sight met their eyes that made a deep impression on all, and caused the blood to run cold in their veins. The Yankton was the first American boat to arrive and hundreds of starving and injured survivors besieged them for food and medical assistance. They came in boats, flocks of them, and holding up bags of gold, begged and prayed for food and water, offering fabulous sums. All the provisions were taken ashore, under guard, and

WILL SPEND SEASON IN WASHINGTON D.C.

Mrs. John Jameson, Sister of Mrs. Will Havens of West Second Attracts Attention in Capitol

WITH PARISIAN COSTUMES

The following article from the Washington, D. C. Herald concerning Mrs. John Jameson, who is a sister of Mrs. Will Havens of West Second street:

Mr. and Mrs. John Jameson are among the great throng of visitors who have found Washington attractive enough to remain for the spring season at the New Willard. They divide their time between New York, Paris, and Philadelphia, and have traveled all over the world. Mrs. Jameson has attracted attention by her splendid Parisian costumes, until she is conceded to be the best dressed woman in Washington during this auspicious week. She was, before her marriage, Miss Minnie Merrill, of Connersville, one of the oldest and most substantial families of that city. She has spent most of her mature years abroad, and it was in Paris that she met and married Mr. Jameson, of Philadelphia, a member of the noted old family of Jamesons who founded one of the earliest churches in Germantown nearly 250 years ago. Her gown and diamonds at the inaugural ball were among the most stunning of the thousands there. It was of pink guaze embroidered with silver and pearls. A diamond necklace, bracelets, tiara, and corsage ornaments of great value completed the costume.

Rushville people seemed to be in bad at the Lackey horse sale in Cambridge City yesterday. Three men, residents of this city, who are working at the Lackey barn, during the sale, were injured, one of them seriously.

Charles Baker, was kicked by a vicious animal and considerably bruised up, but none of injuries are considered serious. Russell King, son of Sheriff and Mrs. Will King fell from a horse while it was running at a rapid gait and suffered a broken arm. Tom Bodine was more seriously injured than either of the other two men. He entered a stable to bring a horse out to show it, when the animal turned on him and probably would have killed him, had someone not come to his assistance. Bodine is wearing bandages about his head today and is forced to walk on crutches.

ASSESSOR HAS AMENABLE JOB

Much Depends Upon the Judgement That he Uses in Reforming His Duties.

HE MAKES THE ESTIMATES

Only Board of Review Can Alter His Figures—Responsible to Them Alone.

How would you like to be the assessor? If you think it's a snap put in a day with any of the assessors and you may revise your opinions.

Very heavy responsibilities rest on his shoulders for he is accountable to the public for his acts and one and all have a right to expect from him a square deal. Their appeal is to the Board of Review, and it is highly to the credit of them who have assessed a big per cent. of all the property of the county for some years, that appeals from their findings on real or personal property have been very rare.

The State tax board at Indianapolis are ever on the alert for means by which all property interests shall share in bearing the tax burdens of the State. They formulate certain general plans, rules and rates and these are conveyed to the township through the various county assessors. But being general rules they may daily and hourly need special interpretation as ever-varying local conditions arise. And therein is where the judgment of the assessor comes into play. If it is sound his work passes without criticism. If faulty, it may be heard from at the Board of Review session.

It is well that the assessor is no man's man, officially; that he is given free reign to do his own work, free from orders from any source and guided alone by his own judgment and experience.

Dandruff Germs Must Go.

In America the dandruff germs must go. The war of extermination has been declared. The battle has begun, and already thousands of intelligent Americans have permanently rid themselves of this filthiness.

Today it is no more necessary for man to have dandruff in his hair than to have tartar on his teeth.

Dandruff can never be cured until the small, aggravating and indomitable dandruff germ is conquered and destroyed.

And millions of dandruff germs have been destroyed thanks to the great scientist and dermatologist who gave to the world Parisian Sage, the only real dandruff cure and hair grower the world has ever known.

If you have dandruff, Parisian Sage will cure you in two weeks, or your money back.

But besides ridding the scalp of dandruff, Parisian Sage is guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It is not a dye. It is a prime favorite with women of refinement. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and beautiful, and is not sticky or greasy.

INDIANA POLITICS

ROBERT G. TUCKER.

Indianapolis, March 12.—The Indianapolis Star said today: "Former Governor Winfield T. Durbin will probably succeed James P. Goodrich as chairman of the Republican state committee. A meeting of the committee is to be held within the next thirty days for the purpose of choosing a man to fill out Mr. Goodrich's unexpired term. Mr. Goodrich's time is entirely taken up with his duties as receiver for the C. C. & L. The names of Harry S. New, former national chairman, and Charles F. Remy, former reporter of the supreme court, have been mentioned in connection with the chairmanship, but neither of them is willing to make a fight for the place. Mr. Durbin is not an active candidate, but, as it is said, expressed a willingness to fill out Mr. Goodrich's unexpired term." Colonel Durbin and other Republican leaders said today they know of no plans for a meeting of the committee.

John L. Griffiths of Indianapolis is the first Indiana man to be recognized with an appointment in the foreign service under the Taft administration. President Taft is so well pleased with the efficient record Mr. Griffiths has made as consul at Liverpool that he has decided to tender Mr. Griffiths the office for four years more. Mr. Griffiths was appointed consul at Liverpool on March 8, 1905, and has just rounded his first four years of service. Mr. Taft's decision to continue him in the position is due in part to the excellent impression he himself formed of Mr. Griffiths and also to the strong recommendation of Secretary of State Knox, who presented to his chief that Mr. Griffiths is too valuable a man to be let out of the public service. Mr. Knox is enthusiastic in his praise of Griffiths, who he considers one of the best men in the foreign service of the government. Mr. Griffiths is on a straight salary of $8,000 a year, and Mr. Taft's decision means that, with one exception, Mr. Griffiths will be the highest salaried Indianian in the government service during the next four years. The exception is former Congressman Newton W. Gilbert of Fort Wayne, who, as one of the members of the Philippine commission in charge of a department, drew a salary of $15,000 a year.

All of the applicants for state mine inspector and deputies in that department who took the examination required by law failed to make grades entitling them to the places. Among the number were James Epperson, the present state inspector; Deputies Wellington O'Connor, former president of the Indiana bituminous miners; Jonathan Thomas, Robert Irving and Albert A. Sims. Not a deputy could make good under the questions prepared by Geologist Blatchley and H. E. Barnard, state chemist. The law provides that no one shall be appointed who does not make a grade of at least 85 per cent. Three men made 80. The geologist has applied to Attorney General Birmingham for an opinion as to how he shall proceed. The geologist thinks he may be permitted to appoint those making the highest grades. The miners joined with the operators two years ago in enacting the law under which the examinations were made.

The supreme court has decided that express companies cannot be compelled to make deliveries within the city under the present law. The decision came on an appeal from the decision of the Marion superior court in the case of the state against the Adams Express company for alleged failure to deliver packages as required under the law which says that delivery must be made in all cities of over 2,500 inhabitants. It was shown that the express company made the delivery through a parcel delivery company when beyond certain bounds, making an extra charge. The court held that this was not unlawful.

Primaries were held last night to elect precinct committeemen to reorganize the city committee of both parties. Very little interest was manifested by the Republicans, but there was a hot three-cornered fight among the Democrats, who will meet Saturday to elect chairman, the race lying between William F. Moore, Henry Seyfried and James Mitchell. The Republicans probably will elect Harry Klausman city chairman, but he is not a candidate.

Fassett A. Cotton will on Monday end his third term as superintendent of public instruction. The state board of education adopted a very flattering resolution regarding him.

Doesn't Look Like Invasion.
New York, March 12.—K. Yamasaki, acting consul general of Japan, announces that the report of the department of foreign affairs of Japan, which has just been cabled to him, shows that during the month of February ninety-four more Japanese returned home than entered the main land of the United States, and fifty-two more Japanese returned home than entered Hawaii.

Latest Dayton Murder Mystery.
Dayton, O., March 12.—Another baffling mystery confronts the police in the discovery of the decomposed body of an unknown white woman in the canal below the Apple street bridge. In the opinion of the officers, it must have lain in the water about a month. Six girls have been found slain in Dayton recently. Four of the murders have never been solved.

SMILES OF WIFE SUSTAINED HIM

Lawyer Brown Cheered Up on Witness Stand.

WIFE NODDED HER APPROVAL

At Nearly Every Point in the Examination of Attorney Charles E. Brown on Charge of Counterfeiting, Mrs. Brown Smiled and Nodded Her Approval—When Witness's Voice Shook a Smile From His Wife Would Serve to Renew His Confidence.

Danville, Ill., March 12.—Encouraged by his wife, who smiled and nodded her approval at almost every answer he made, Attorney Charles E. Brown, charged with counterfeiting, succeeded in going through the examination on the witness stand without a great display of nervousness.

At times his voice shook slightly, but a smile from his wife appeared to renew his confidence. As nearly as possible his answers were in monosyllables and only once did he venture anything like an extended statement. During the examination he carried a pad in his hands and made frequent notes. He substantiated the contention of the defense that he had planned to go in the medal manufacturing business, and he denied that the devices in his possession were dies were dies or hubs similar to those used by the government, as did M. Childs, an expert Chicago engraver, who admitted on cross examination that they might be such if more complete.

Much emphasis was laid on this point by the defense as a result of Federal Judge Wright's ruling that the defendant could not legally have such things in his possession. Fifty character witnesses have been subpoenaed by the defense. It has become known that the government is using an ex-counterfeiter to assist it in its case against Brown, but the identity of this person is not made public.

FOR AGED PEOPLE

Old Folks Should be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

With advanced age comes inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver. Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will cure these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. The remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulatory action upon the dry, relax muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wave-like motion which forces their contents onward and outward; thus simulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They also remove all irritation, dryness, soreness and weakness. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. 36 tablets 25c, and 12 tablets 10c. Lytle's Drug Store, Third and Main St.

Glenwood.

Rural Route Carrier Charles L. Reed had a narrow escape while on his return trip. His horse became frightened at a vehicle and ran against a mail box post, and giving a leap, broke one of the shafts loose from the wagon and jerked the shaft between his hind legs. The horse then ran away at a very fast gait stripping himself of the harness except the collar and hames. Mr. Reed was badly injured, cutting a gash over his eye, which required several stitches. The wound bled quite freely. Dr. H. H. Elliott dressed the wounds. The same horse has run away several times before. He seems bent on killing Mr. Reed. The horse was kept in Orange and no serious damage was done to the wagon.

THE PRESIDENT JOINS

Mr. Taft, Optimist, Says His Will Be an Optimistic Administration.

Washington, March 12.—President Taft said his will be an optimistic administration to an optimistic country, full of hope, cheerfulness and confidence. The president expressed this sentiment when he became a full-fledged member of the Optimist Club of America, upon the invitation of its founder, William J. Robinson of New York. Mr. Robinson, as Optimist-at-Large, named Mr. Taft a member of the club's executive committee. Andrew Carnegie is president of the organization.

The president declined with regret an invitation extended by Mr. Robinson to attend the club's first annual banquet in New York on March 31. The Optimist club has a membership of 250,000, including men prominent in every walk of life. The club was launched in November, 1907, at Salt Lake City.

Forward Step in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., March 12.—Governor Deneen has signed the Glackin bill authorizing the establishment of tuberculosis sanitariums by municipalities. Cruel Officer Punished.

Brunswick, March 12.—Lieutenant Arnold of the Belgian army, who was at one time denounced by the missionaries for burning and pillaging villages and committing assassinations and other atrocities in the Congo, has been found guilty of a series of charges of this nature and sentenced to imprisonment for twelve years.

TELLS MILLERS TO GO TO COURT

Wilson Says He Will Not Reverse White Flour Edict.

WANT TO KNOW WHAT WE EAT

In Answer to Appeals From Millers to Reverse Decision Against Bleached Flour, the Secretary of Agriculture Takes a Resolute Stand—"I Am Utterly Hostile," Says He, "to Having the People's Food Tampered With"—If Millers Don't Like It, They Can Go to Court, He Says.

Washington, March 12.—A formidable movement, the purpose of which is to induce Secretary of Agriculture Wilson to modify or reverse his recent decision in which he held that flour bleached by nitrogen peroxide is an adulterated product under the food and drugs act, is on foot. Hundreds of letters from millers of bleached flour

SECRETARY WILSON.

In all parts of the country are being received daily by the secretary asking him to refer his ruling to the referee board of scientific experts for review. In numerous instances the communications are sent to members of congress and by them referred to the secretary of agriculture without any recommendation.

That Secretary Wilson will resolutely stand by his decision is indicated by the fact that in his replies to the various communications he declares that he can see no useful purpose in referring the question of bleached flour to the referee board. This body, he states, is already overburdened with important matters, and he adds that the courts are open to those who want to appeal from his decision. "I am utterly hostile to having the people's food tampered with," declared the secretary. "We want to know that what we eat is the pure product."

WOULDN'T LET HIM LISTEN

General Garner Sent From the Room While General Washington Spoke.

Nashville, Tenn., March 12.—The fourth day of the arguments in the Cooper-Sharp trial for the murder of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack, closed with General Washington of the defense in the middle of his argument and two more attorneys to follow him. The case will probably go to the jury late tomorrow. General Washington will be followed by Judge Anderson, who is expected to make the main argument of the defense. Then Attorney General McCarn will close for the state. Judge Anderson says he will require about six or eight hours for his speech, while McCarn declares that four hours will do him.

Judge Hart again requested the attorneys to submit instructions for the charge and complained that they were slow about complying.

General Washington's argument was brilliant in word painting, metaphors, appeal and invective. He made savage attacks upon the state's counsel and singled out Attorney General J. B. Garner as his special victim. Garner is reputed to have nearly as fiery a temper as has Washington, so counsel for the state insisted upon Garner's withdrawing from the room during Washington's address.

The speaker laid special stress upon the social standing and breeding of the defendants and declared that men of such families killed only in defense of life or honor. His speech was a masterpiece of oratory and had a noticeable effect upon the jury.

NEW ORLEANS MYSTERY

Three Well-Known Women Have Been Missing For Days.

New Orleans, March 12.—In their efforts to find three women, two of whom are wives of well-known men, who have been missing for days from their homes in New Orleans and one of its suburbs, the police admit that they have been unable to obtain the slightest clue which would lead to a solution of any of the mysterious cases.

The women are Mrs. E. W. Baker, Mrs. P. H. Thibault and Mrs. John S. Edmonds.

Friday, March 12, 1909.

New Castle Courier: So it appears that the editor of the Richmond Item wants to be happily seated in the mayor's chair of his home city. Is that a case of asking to be "taken out of the wet" for services rendered to the exhilarating dampness?

The birth rate in the United States in the days of its Anglo-Saxon youth was one of the highest in the world. The best of authority traces the beginning of its decline to the first appearance about 1850, a year of immigration on a large scale. Our great philosopher, Benjamin Franklin, estimated six children to a normal American family in his day. The average at the present time is slightly above two. For 1900 it is calculated that there are only about three-fourths as many children to potential mothers in America as there were forty years ago. Were the old rate of the middle of the century sustained, there would be 15,000 more births yearly in the State of Massachusetts than now occur. In the course of a century the proportion of our entire population, consisting of children under the age of 10, has fallen from one-third to one-quarter. This, for the whole United States, is equivalent to the loss of about 7,000,000 children. So alarming has this phenomenon of the falling birth rate become in the Australian colonies that, in South Wales, a special governmental commission has voluminously reported upon the subject. It is estimated that there has been a decline of about one-third in the fruitfulness of the people in fifteen years. New Zealand even complains of the lack of children to fill her schools. The fact concerning the stagnation, may even the retrogression of the population of France are too well-known to need description.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

The Arkansas legislature killed the racing bill which provided for racing at Hot Springs under the direction of a commission.

The Georgia division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has decided on Andersonville as the location for the monument to Captain Wirz.

A revived export demand and reports of damage to the growing crop by winter killing helped to create a strong tone in the Chicago wheat market.

John W. Holcombe and James I. Parker, both of Indiana, have been appointed assistant and assistant attorney respectively to the secretary of the interior.

Madrid has been visited by an epidemic of typhoid fever. More than 300 cases already have been removed to one hospital and there have been many deaths.

Don't Do This

Don't think it necessary to be a Sandow. Many lightweights bowl well.

Don't tell your wife that you carried off all the honors. She may see a paper.

Don't bring suit against the publisher if you find your score or average printed wrong. The chances are he never saw you bowl. It is possible someone else has made the mistake.

Don't get discouraged, you can learn. Any able-bodied person, with ordinary nerve and a good eye, can become quite expert with little practice.

Don't use profane language on the alleys. Assist us in elevating the game.

Don't tell anyone what you are going to do. Wait until after the game and tell them what you did do.

Don't let an alley owner use pins that are worn out. Inform him that good pins make good scores, and that good scores make good business.

Don't ask him to cut prices. They cannot keep the alleys in condition at cheap prices.

Don't think you can sandpaper a ball without injuring it. It takes an expert mechanic to true up a lignum vitae ball.

Don't lay up a lignum vitae ball away dry, if you don't want it to crack.

Don't overlook the fact that bowling is the most healthful of all indoor sports.

Pineuses are for Backache, and bring quick relief to lumbago, rheumatism, fatigue and all other symptoms of Kidney diseases. They are a tonic to the entire system and build up strength and health. Price 50c and $1.00. Sold by Lytle's Drug Store.

Woman Is Man's Equal, Not His Toy.

By the Rev. WILLIAM O'BRIEN PARDOW, Famous American Jesuit Preacher.

WOMAN IS NOT MAN'S TOY, TO BE THROWN AWAY AT WILL. SHE IS NOT MAN'S SLAVE, TO DO HIS WORK, BUT HIS HELPMATE.

She is not merely meant to take care of the flowers of the garden of Eden, but to HELP HIM through his INTELLECT AND HIS HEART. And to do this she must be in some way his superior.

It is sad that man has not understood how woman was to be his helpmate. Through the development of his emotions he has MADE HER A TOY. Sometimes women help on this idea, and we find them sinking lower and lower.

For Woman's Eye.

For business wear nothing supplants the shirtwaist and skirt in popular favor.

An effort is being made to bring a hat of poke bonnet style into favor.

The soft materials now being used for evening gowns all have a shimmer.

Copper color is found to a great extent in the metal trimmings.

Flame colors are coming to the fore in millinery and gowns.

Rhinestone hatpins are very effective and much worn.

Dead white hats will be excellent for dressy wear.

Pale tints of gray will be in favor this spring.

A tickling or dry cough can be quickly loosened with Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. No opium, no chloroform, nothing unsafe or harsh. Sold by F. B. Johnson & Co.

Smart Tips For Men

Wood fibers in cravats are having a revival. They slide through the collar more easily now by means of a thinness in the band and are more sturdy at the ends.

The high cut waistcoat, closing with six or seven buttons, which reveals but little of the shirt front, is being worn by the ultra fashionable.

Emerald Isle hues in men's headwear have caught the public fancy and green is the hat color for the time being at least.

Shirt, scarf and hose should match or be contrasted in good taste.

There is an increased demand for the leather variety in garters.

There is a tendency toward fancy effects in umbrellas.

The gray tie is being worn with the evening jacket.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Old Soldier's Story" is the title of the film to be shown at the Grand theater tonight. The subjects is comic and never fail to please the old soldier. Miss Iva Brown will sing "One Little, Sweet Little Girl."

"The Montana School Marm" is the subject of the film to be shown tonight. The talking picture "Old, Old Story" will be shown. Fine crowds attended all the shows last night. The popular matinees will be given to tomorrow afternoon. Miss Clara Gregg will sing "Lonely Lou."

Miss Adelaide Norwood, who will be heard in the Auditorium in Connersville Saturday evening in "Madam Butterfly" was personally selected by Giacomo Puccini, the composer, for his most popular opera, to create the role of the Japanese heroine in America. For many years Miss Norwood was the best known American prima donna singing in English. Three years ago she went abroad to study and for appearance in various European capital cities and has just returned to her native land.

The presentation of "The Lion and the Mouse" in every city is made notable by the large number of people it attracts to the theater who are not among the regular or even spasmodic playgoers and only attend some particularly important event. Dealing as it does with the influence of the kings of high finance and handled with the consummate skill for which Charles Klein has become famous as an author. "The Lion and the Mouse" is a play which will constitute the sole theatrical amusement of many a respected citizen of this community for the present season, for they will all want to see how Mr. Klein has treated John Burkett Ryder, known in the play as the richest man in the world, and quickly recognized by all as a certain American who is very much in the public eye at the present time. Mr. Harris will send a magnificent company to Connersville this evening.

ANOTHER ONE FOR WATSON

This Time he is to be Appointed Governor of Porto Rico.

Washington, March 11.—James E. Watson may be the next governor of Porto Rico, President Taft, it is understood, does not intend to make a change in the office immediately perhaps not for nine months or a year.

As things stand today, Watson can have the place when the vacancy occurs if he wants it. Charles B. Landis has been mentioned in connection with the appointment, but Watson is the man slated.

Health and school authorities of Cleveland are discussing plans to prevent school teachers with tuberculosis or other communicable disease endangering the lives of their pupils.

YOUNG LAD BACK FROM LONG TRIP

there given out with an eye towards equity and with special, painstaking system of distribution. Marines went ashore and for two days dug in the ruins to find the bodies of the American consul and his family. It was not until the battleship of Illinois arrived and two hundred sailors got busy that the remains were found. An Italian musician in the band on the flagship, whose folks lived in Messina, was given a furlough and much money and provisions by the sailors. He found his parents imprisoned in their home two days afterwards and personally saved their lives. When the father saw the rescuer was none other than his son, whom he thought was thousands of miles away, he nearly lost his mind, thinking it was all a dream and that he was insane. Pickard said they felt a slight shock the second day after they put into Messina.

Off the coast of Japan, the Yankton was lost three days in a storm and the officers of the other boats gave them up as lost. Pickard said the Japs gave them the greatest reception and the warmest welcome of all the places they visited. Nothing was too good for the American sailors. Pickard brought home a medal given him by a Jap officer. He was especially struck by the Jap girls and says the brown beauties of the Orient are to his notion, the cleverest girls in the world. Next to them, he was "strong" for the French dames. He spent two weeks at Villa France where dancing and singing coquettes entertained nightly with dances and revelry. Next to the Jap and French girls, Pickard says you can put him down for the Australian beauties. At Sidney he had a glorious time and what money he did not spend for post cards he flung to the breezes with a Sleepy Sidneyite on his arm.

The Yankton was the first boat to arrive at Hampton Roads on the return from circling the globe. From there they hustled up to Washington on the Potomac and got $800,000 in three boxes which was brought back to Hampton Roads and used to pay off the sailors of the big squadron. This money is now being fast put in circulation by sailors on furloughs.

But for a' that Pickard is glad to get back to Rushville and says he will quit the navy, when his time of four years has passed. He will be here twenty days.

"I love her already," I whispered, "and I'll spend my life making her happy and making a lady of her, which clinched what wavering doubt the mother had, and she began to plan quickly, the fear coming on her of a sudden that our scheme might fail. I was for riding away with both of them that night, back through the streets of Mesa and up into the hills, where I'd have held them single handed against man or devil, but she wouldn't hear of it.

"We must go away," she said, "a long way from here, where the world won't find us and the little one can

I saw that he had instilled a terror into her and that she feared him like death, but as I thought it over her scheme seemed feasible, so I agreed. I was to ride west that hour with the sleeping babe and conceal myself at a place we selected, while she would say that the little one had wandered away and been lost in the canyon or anything else to throw Bennett off. After a time she would join us. Well, the little girl never waked when I took her in my arms nor when the mother broke down again and talked to me like a crazy woman.

I traveled hard that night and swapped horses at daylight. Then, leaving the wild country behind, I came into a region I didn't know and found a Mexican woman who tended the child for me, for I was close by the place where Merridy was to come. Every night I went into the village in hopes that some word had arrived, and I waited patiently for a week. Then I got the blow. I heard it from the loafers around the little postoffice first, but it dazed me so I wouldn't believe it till I borrowed the paper and read the whole story, with the type dancing and leaping before me. It took some hours for it to seep in even after that, and for years I recalled every word of the d—d lie as if it had been branded on me with hot irons. They called it a shocking crime, the most brutal murder California had ever known, and in the headlines was my name in letters that struck me between the eyes like a hammer. Mrs. Dan Bennett had been foully murdered by me in a fit of sudden jealousy, and I had disappeared with the baby! The husband had returned unexpectedly to find her dying, so he said, but too far gone to call for help and with barely sufficient strength to tell him who did it and how! Then the paper went on with the tale of my courting her and her turning me down for Bennett. It told how I had gone off alone up into the hills, turning into a bear that nobody, man or child, could approach. It said I had brooded there s—t this time till the mania got uppermost and so came down to wreak my vengeance. They never even did me the credit of calling me crazy. I was a f—d incarnate, a beast without soul and a lot of things like that—and, remember, I had never harmed living thing in all my life. However, that wasn't what hurt. What turned me into a dull, dead, suffering thing was the knowledge that she was gone. For hours I couldn't get beyond that fact. Then came the realization that Bennett had done it, for I reasoned that he had dragged a hint of the truth from her by very force of the fear he held her in—and slain her. God! The awful rage that came over me! But there was nothing to do. I had sworn to guard the little one, so I couldn't take vengeance on him. I couldn't go back and prove my innocence, for that would give the child to him.

"What a night I spent! The next day I saw I had been indicted by the grand jury and was a wanted man. From a distance I watched myself become an outlaw; watched the county put a price upon my head, which Bennett doubled; watched public opinion rise to such a heat that posses began to scour the mountains. What I noted in particular was a statement in the paper that 'the sorrowing husband takes his bereavement with the quiet courage which marks a brave man.' It happened that the Mexican woman couldn't read and talked little. Still, I knew they'd find me soon—it couldn't be otherwise—so I made another run for it, swearing an oath, however, before I left that I'd come back and have that gambler's heart.

"The old man tried to light his pipe, which had gone out, but his fingers shook so that he dropped the match. His plan was for me to take the youngster away that night and for her to join us later, because pursuit was certain, and three could be traced where one might disappear. She would follow when the opportunity offered

"I uttered a cry and took her in my arms, the arms that had ached for her all those years. Then I kissed her for the first time."

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Possibly, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, really diseased, but almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that runs all over the body. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more strength, more controlling, more governing strength, without which the Heart must continue to fail, and the whole body and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of this obscure, faint, aching, suffering heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you should have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strength, these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with gone farther from men and things however, than I thought, and this return pursuit was a million times worse than the other, for I couldn't go fast enough to shake Death, who ran with his hand on my cantele or rode on my horse's rump. It was then I found Alina. She was with a hunting party of Pah-Utes who knew nothing of me nor of the white man's affairs and cared less, and when I saw the little squaw I rode my horse up beside her, laid the sick child in her arms, then tumbled out of the saddle. They had a harder job to pull me through than they did to save Merridy.

"The little one was playing around several days before I got back my reason. Meanwhile the party had moved north, taking us with them, and, as it happened, just missing a posse who were returning from the desert.

"When I was able to get about I told Alina that I must be going, but as I told her I watched her face and saw the sign I wanted. The white girl had clutched at her like she had at me, and she couldn't give her up, so I made a dicker with her old man. It took all the money I had to buy that squaw, but I knew the kid must have a woman's care, and the three of us started out soon after alone and broke

"Since then we three have never rested. I left them once in Idaho and went back to Mesa, riding all the way, mostly by night, but Bennett was gone. He'd run down mighty fast after Merridy died till he had a killing in his place. Instead of stopping to face it out the yellow in him rose to the surface, and he left before sunup, as I had left, making a clean get-away, too, for there was no such hullabaloo raised about killing a man as there was about the other. So my trip was all for nothing.

"I figured it wouldn't be right to either you or Nacia to let you go it blind, and so I came in to tell you this whole thing and to give myself up."

Gale stopped, then poured himself another drink.

"To give yourself up?" echoed Burrell vaguely. "How do you mean?" He had sat like one in a trance during the long recital, only his eyes alive.

"I'm under indictment for murder," said the trader. "I have been for fifteen years, and there's no chance in the world for me to prove my innocence."

"Have you told Nacia?" the young man inquired.

"No; you'll have to do that. I never could. She might disbelieve. What's more, you mustn't tell her yet. Wait till I give the word."

"John Gale," said the lieutenant, "you're the bravest man I ever knew and the best." He choked a bit. "You sacrificed all that life meant when this girl was a baby, and now when she has come into womanhood you give up your blood for her. By all that's great, you are a man! I want your hand!"

Then he inquired irrelevantly: "But what about Bennett, Mr. Gale? You say you never found him?"

The trader answered after a moment's hesitation. "He is still at large," at which his companion exclaimed, "I'd love to meet him in your stead!"

Gale seemed seized with a desire to speak, but even while he hesitated out of the silent night there came the sound of quick footsteps approaching briskly, as if the owner were in haste and knew whither he was bound.

"Lieutenant Burrell!" a gruff voice cried. "Let me in! Quick! I've got work for you to do! Open up! This is Ben Stark!"

Bryan's Jet Black Stove Polish.

Is the best stove polish on the market. This is not our own verdict, alone, but that of a constantly increasing number of users who really constitute the "court of last appeal" in the matter of the utility of any article. Bryan's Jet Black is easy to apply, shines with least polishing, gives a lasting jet black lustre which make the stove a "thing of beauty." This polish is not only clean, smokeless, dustless and odorless, but it lengthens the life of any stove. Manufactured in both liquid and paste form. For sale wherever stove polishes are sold. 304t12

LA FOLLETTE SPEAKS IN NEW YORK TONIGHT

Will Make Argument For Direct Nominations Plan.

New York, March 12.—Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, the famous "fighting senator," will address an address on "Direct Primary Nominations" before the Civic Forum in this city tonight. Invitations have been sent to Governor Hughes, the best known advocate of the direct nominations plan, and others prominent in the state government.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson XI.—First Quarter, For March 14, 1909.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts ix, 31-43. Memory Verses 40, 41—Golden Text, Acts ix, 34—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

The lesson committee seems to have been led to continue the studies concerning Peter for some weeks yet, reserving the conversion of Saul until we take up the story of the gospel more fully given to the gentiles. We last saw Peter and John in Samaria, working with Philip, and then on their way back to Jerusalem, preaching the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans (viii, 25). Peter went about a good deal, in Jesus' name winning souls and building up the saints, and now we find him with the saints at Lydda. It may help some to be reminded that God calls all true believers saints. See Rom. i, 7; I Cor. i, 2 (omit the italics); Eph. i, 1; Phil. i, 1; Col. i, 2, and note that the worst of sinners when they truly receive the Lord Jesus are by His blood equally washed and sanctified and justified (I Cor. vi, 9-11; Heb. x, 10-14). The standing before God in Christ of all the redeemed is the same, for all are members of His body, a part of Himself. Down here in our daily life our walk should correspond with our standing, but the experience of Christians is not always true Christian experience, so there is room for sanctification and growth in grace every day (John xvii, 17; II Pet. iii, 18).

Among the saints at Lydda was one who had been eight years in bed, sick of palsy, but the power of Christ, through Peter, gave him perfect health in a moment, and one result was that the whole town and neighborhood turned to the Lord. We trust that it was with them as with the Thessalonians, who "turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God and to wait for His Son from heaven" (I Thess. i, 9, 10). This incident and other miracles of healing by the apostles give rise to such questions as, Is the health of the body included in the atonement, and, if so, why are not more believers healed in answer to prayer? It is made very plain that the great atonement of the Lord Jesus includes the body as well as the soul of every true believer, and, more than that, the planet called earth on which we live, and in due time the whole earth, shall be filled with the glory of God and there will be no more curse nor sorrow, nor crying nor death on the whole earth (Isa. xi, 9; Rev. xxi, 4; xx, 3). But the creation shall not have the benefit of the atonement till the coming of Christ with his saints, and the saints must wait for their redeemed bodies till the resurrection of the righteous at His coming.

BAD STOMACH

Many in Rushville are being Thoroughly Purified by Mi-o-na, the Guaranteed Cure for Indigestion

People of Rushville who suffer from dyspepsia and other stomach troubles are getting tired of taking preparations containing pepsin, because pepsin simply digests the food artificially. Pepsin relieves, it never cures.

And remember, pepsin only digests animal food; it has no effect on starchy food, such as potatoes, rice, bread, etc.

Mi-o-na cleanses and purifies the stomach and bowels, and tones up and puts energy into the stomach walls, so that they properly mix the food with the natural digestive juices of the stomach.

Mi-o-na tablets quickly arouse the stomach from its inaction, and in a few days it is able to do its work easily and without exertion. There will be no more sour stomach, fermentation of food, dizziness, sick headache, belching of gas, or foul breath.

Mi-o-na only costs 50 cents a large box, and is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. to dyspepsia, sea or ear sickness, vomiting of pregnancy, and stomach sickness resulting from over-indulgence of the night before.

SOCIETY NEWS

Mrs. James Lock will entertain a number of friends at six o'clock dinner this evening at her home in North Morgan street.

***

Owing to the high esteem in which the Misses Spritz of Cincinnati have always been held in Rushville, their concert promises to be quite a society as well as musical event. It is understood that society is going to "turn out" in large numbers to give their former neighbors, school chums and pupils a hearty welcome and it seems that everybody is proud of the fact that the young ladies belong to Rushville and glad to give them the ovation they deserve on their return and first appearance here in concert.
